Starlink Cellular Communicator
The most important link in your security system is the transmission of the alarm signal.
New phone services offer a wide array of features and benefits, but they also have limitations and may not work with your security system. Bundled phone/internet/cable packages are especially attractive, but require caution when it comes to security systems. Most package providers fail to warn customers that the service may need to be configured uniquely to provide a reliable connection to our monitoring station.

POWER ALARM INC. provides communication through cellular services we call STARLINK which is the most reliable way to communicate your alarm signals.
You need a communication link that’s highly reliable, especially during bad weather or power outages. Also, one that is immune to an intruder simply cutting the phone line and leaving your system with no link to the monitoring station.
FROM NOW UNTIL THE END OF THE YEAR WE ARE OFFERING A STARLINK PROMOTION
Promotion includes:
1 Starlink Cellular unit,
1 Service Call labor to install Starlink
*small additional monthly fee applies
